

OUR COMMITMENT TO DOING GOOD

From bottle to beautiful.

Explore our Eco-Collection, which includes a variety of styles containing at least 35% recycled post-consumer waste, made primarily of recycled plastic bottles. Since launching this collection, we've saved more than a million plastic bottles from landfills or oceans. But this is just the beginning, as we're weaving recycled materials into more and more styles every season.

Better fabrics. Made smarter.

The Storm Creek way all starts with amazing fabrics. Our goal is to develop high-quality products that last. We began our eco-commitment over five years ago, which wasn't easy based on our fabric and performance standards. However, major strides by fabric mills around the world have opened the door for Storm Creek to do our part.

Sustainability + Quality

We are committed to pursuing recycled components and a sustainable supply chain for all new products, as well as upgrading our existing core styles. Plus, we stand behind every product. Through our Lifetime Warranty, we guarantee that our apparel will be free of any defects in materials and workmanship for the life of the garment.

The plastic pollution problem world-wide is very serious -- With the quality of materials being made from recycled materials, we now can develop and change many styles to have a recycled plastic component.

We seek only high-quality mills whenever we source raw materials, and make sure they measure up to our standards. Many of our mills are Blue Sign or Oeko-Tex certified. These certified mills focus on sustainable practices, water conservation, and environmentally-safe chemicals.

We work with some of the top factories in the world. Our owners personally know the factory owners, and they have been selected because our values align. Many of our factories are WRAP and BSCI certified, and all of them meet the high standards required by some of the best brands in the world.

Storm Creek adheres to transparency regarding chemicals used in producing and packaging our apparel. With our factories, we avoid any product that could be deemed harmful or considered a health concern. All Storm Creek materials are Proposition 65 certified, ensuring garments are non-toxic and safe. You can trust Storm Creek to do the right thing, always.

From inception, Storm Creek has been committed to the community. Through our Embrace the Cause Program, Storm Creek has donated over tens of thousands of dollars and hundreds of volunteer hours to more than 30 nonprofit causes locally and nationally. We are a member of the Minnesota Keystone Program, which recognizes companies that donate at least 2% of their pre-tax earnings to charitable organizations! We are proud to be one of the few giving at a 5% level. Through our 1% for the Planet membership, we take responsibility for the Earth by supporting organizations that do the important work to create positive environmental change. 1% from every purchase of our Eco-Collection goes to this worthy endeavor. Additionally, we donate thousands of dollars' worth of our products and expertise to assist people in need.